All content, configuration, legal documents and other elements comprising this website can be modified without prior notice by the provider. Thus, the provider recommends users their reading prior to each consecutive website access.

III. Website Use and Provider Responsibility

The provider will follow the econfía code of conduct, which can be visualised, downloaded and printed at www.econfia.com/codigo.php. The said certificate guarantees legality and conformity as regards the laws applicable at the time of the audit.

The certificate remains valid for this website during the period of 1 year and will be revised by the auditing entity within 6 months of its issue. All relevant information will be made available to the user on activating the hyperlink behind the icon of the certificate.

The said certificate provides information about the titular, the moment and process of certificate issue, the date of its last revision and its expiry date. The provider will not be responsible or liable for information published on their website if that information has suffered manipulation or has been introduced by a third party unrelated to the organisation.

This website itself and its correct functioning have been revised. In general, its correct functioning can be guaranteed 365 days a year, 24 hours a day. However, the provider admits the possibility of the existence of certain programming errors, or other errors caused by major forces, natural catastrophes, strikes or similar circumstances that impede the access to the website.

The provider will not assume any responsibility, including indirect or subsidiary responsibility, for any damage or losses related to, but not limited by the lack of availability, maintenance or proper functioning of the website and/or its service or content; the lack of utility, adequacy or the validity of the website and/or its services or content to satisfy the needs, activities, particular results or expectations of the users; the existence of viruses or malware in its content; the upload, download, posting, storage, diffusion or transmission, by the users, of the content; illicit, negligent or fraudulent use of the website, its services or content or use thereof contrary to good faith or generally accepted as correct by the users; the lack of legality, quality, veracity, utility and availability of the services provided by third parties and directed at website users; the incompliance by third parties of the obligations related to the services directed at users through the website or the opinions published by users in the fora or chatrooms and the opinion messages posted in different areas of the www.segovia.2016.es portal provided, or any other relevant instance.

IV. User Responsibility

The use of the website is subject to the unique and exclusive responsibility of the User. The said responsibility will cover the use, by authorised users, of any password or account assigned to access the website or any service provided by the Office via the website to the user. These conditions apply especially in the case of accessing the database of cultural volunteers collaborating with the Office. The Office will have the right to deny access to this website or the services provided via it at any given moment and without prior notice to those users who break the general conditions or the specific conditions applicable in particular circumstances, especially in the event of a breach of particular conditions established in relevant collaboration agreements.

V. Intellectual Property

All the website, which includes, but is not limited to the programming, information edition, compilation and other operations necessary for its functioning, the design, the logotypes, the text and/or graphics are protected by applicable copyright and intellectual, and industrial, property registries. Partial or total reproduction thereof, as well as its use, distribution and commercialization are subject to prior written permission by the provider.

The logotypes not belonging to the provider included on this website are property of their respective legal owners who remain responsible and liable in the case of any possible controversy. The inclusion of the said logotypes on this website has been effectuated with prior acceptance of their respective proprietors.

Any claims by users regarding the possible cases of intellectual or industrial property laws infringement, or any other claims related to the content of the website, should first be addressed at the following e-mail address: info@segovia2016.es accompanied by a clear indication of the following:

- Personal data of the implied copyright proprietor (if the claim is submitted by a third party other than the implied proprietor, proper proxy certifications should be included).
- Indication of the content protected by intellectual copyright and their location within the website.

- Certification of the intellectual copyright in question.
- Explicit declaration by the implied proprietor certifying the veracity of all the information provided.

VI. Cultural Volunteer Programme

The user has the possibility to inscribe themselves as a cultural volunteer via this website. The user who fills the inscription form chooses to dedicate part of their time to charity and altruist activities without any obligation or corresponding remuneration.

The user who fills and submits an inscription form explicitly declares having read and accepted the rights and obligations enumerated in the Castile-Leon Volunteer Law 8/2006, 10th October.

All personal data submitted by the user will be stored, processed and protected according to applicable personal data protection laws. For more detailed information, consult the Privacy Policy.

VII. Hyperlinks

The use by any third party of hyperlinks from an external website to any part of the present website will be subject to the following conditions:

All links should be attached to the homepage of this site, <http://www.segovia2016.es/segovia2016.html>; all deep website links, image links or frame links to any page comprising the present website are forbidden without the explicit prior authorisation of the provider.

The external website will not contain any brands, commercial names or symbols, logotypes, mottos or other distinctive signs belonging to the provider unless explicitly authorised by the provider, with the exception of those signs that comprise the hyperlink.

The establishment of a hyperlink will in no case lead to the establishment of any type of relations between the provider and the proprietor of the external website, nor the knowledge or the acceptance by the provider of the services and content included in the host website.

The provider will not be responsible or liable for the websites that may include a hyperlink to this website, the content, the services, the information or other manifestations offered to the general public by the external website.

This website provides hyperlinks to other websites managed and controlled by third parties. The said links have the exclusive function of facilitating users the search for information, content and Internet services, which thus excludes their consideration as suggestions, recommendations or invitations to visit them. The provider does not commercialise, control or manage the content, services, information and manifestations available in these websites, and will in no event be made responsible or liable for them.

The provider explicitly follows the legal terms of use of all the websites the present website establishes hyperlinks with. Should any third party wish to remove or modify the hyperlink to their website, the said claim should be submitted via e-mail to the following e-mail address: info@segovia2016.es, indicating HYPERLINK as the subject of the message.

The provider will not assume any responsibility, including indirect or subsidiary responsibilities, for any damage or losses produced in relation to, but not limited by the access, maintenance, use, quality, legality, veracity and utility of the content, information, communication, opinions, manifestations, products and existing services offered via the websites not managed by the provider, and accessible via this website.

VIII. Jurisdiction and Applicable Laws

The solution of all controversies and claims related to the present website or the activities developed through it will be effectuated under applicable Spanish law accepted by both parties. The competence to resolve all conflicts produced by or related to the use of this website will be held by the Segovia Courts and Tribunals and, if applicable, the Arbitrary Tribunals the provider might be adhered to at the moment of controversy or claim submittal.
